Love is a beautiful thing, and it can happen at any age. Joe Walker and Annette Ross are a testament to that. They found love later in life, and their story is one that will make you believe in second chances.

Joe and Annette met in 2010, at a church function. They were both in their 60s, and they had both been widowed. They started talking, and they quickly realized that they had a lot in common. They both loved to travel, they both loved to laugh, and they both had a strong faith.

They started dating, and they quickly fell in love. They were married in 2012, and they have been together ever since. Their love is a beautiful thing, and it is an inspiration to everyone who knows them.

Joe and Annette's story is a reminder that love can happen at any age. It is never too late to find someone to share your life with. If you are open to love, you never know who you might meet.

Here are some of the things that Joe and Annette have learned about love:

- Love is patient.
- Love is kind.
- Love is not jealous.
- Love does not brag and is not arrogant.

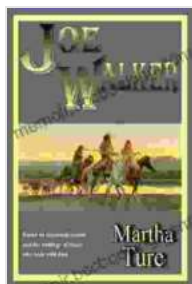

- Love does not act unbecomingly; it does not seek its own, is not provoked, does not take into account a wrong suffered,
- Love does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth;
- Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

Joe and Annette's love is a beautiful example of these principles. They are patient with each other, they are kind to each other, and they are always there for each other. They are an inspiration to everyone who knows them, and their story is a reminder that love is real and that it can happen at any age.

If you are looking for a heartwarming and inspiring love story, then you need to read Joe Walker Annette Ross. Their story will make you believe in second chances, and it will remind you that love is real and that it can happen at any age.
