About the Book

The Worst Journey in the World Annotated is the definitive account of Apsley Cherry-Garrard's harrowing expedition to the South Pole. This meticulously researched and annotated edition provides a unique insight into one of the most extraordinary and ill-fated journeys in human history.

Cherry-Garrard was a young zoologist who joined Robert Falcon Scott's ill-fated Terra Nova Expedition in 1910. The expedition set out to be the first to reach the South Pole, but it ended in tragedy when Scott and his four companions died on their return journey. Cherry-Garrard was one of the few survivors of the expedition, and his account of the journey is a harrowing tale of endurance and tragedy.

The Worst Journey in the World Annotated is a must-read for anyone interested in polar exploration, Antarctic history, or the human spirit. This meticulously researched and annotated edition provides a unique insight into one of the most extraordinary and ill-fated journeys in human history.
